

HERTFORDSHIRE PHILHARMONIA

The Hertfordshire Philharmonia is a Symphony Orchestra created with the joint aims of bringing high quality, accessible music to Hertfordshire and providing a showcase for some of the county's finest musicians. As an independent orchestra working with a number of guest conductors we aim to produce imaginative programs bringing together both standard and more unusual works in the orchestral repertoire.

If you are an experienced orchestral player and are interested in playing with us, or if you would like more information about Hertfordshire Philharmonia, please contact the secretary (email: info@hertsphil.org.uk) or Sheila Cox (01727-857827 or email tickets@hertsphil.org.uk).

In addition to our own concert season the orchestra is hired by other organisations for a variety of performances. Please contact the secretary or Sheila as above if you are interested in hiring us.

We also rely on the generous support of donations from Friends of the Orchestra. Friends contribute £25 or more per year which, for example, enables us to perform with a range of talented emerging soloists, or to hire more interesting music. In recognition Friends are entitled to free programmes or reserved seats. If you would like to become a Friend of the Orchestra, or to be involved with us in any other way, please contact John Cox on 01727 – 857827.

Members of our 100 Club pay £5 a month or £60 per year to enter into three prize draws per year, with cash prizes of up to £100. Details are available from 100club@hertsphil.org.uk. 100 Club members are recognised as Friends of the Orchestra.

Hertfordshire Philharmonia

Some extracts from the local press

“Close attention to the smallest musical detail turned Hertfordshire Philharmonia's concert of Russian music into a thrilling evening.”

“This is also a work which relies heavily on the brass sections, particularly the fanfare-like opening of the prelude. It was exciting music played to a very high standard”

“A standing ovation for conductor Jacques Cohen and the Hertfordshire Philharmonia orchestra was a fitting conclusion to a tremendous performance...”

“Borodin's wonderfully-atmospheric musical picture, In the Steppes of Central Asia, opened the programme and gave individual woodwind players an opportunity to shine. There were particularly good performances by Cor Anglais, flute, oboe and clarinet”

“Wonderful shrieking strings create the powerful image of storms and wind.”
